

AUSTRIAN OFFICER LIVED ON ONE LOAF OF BREAD FIVE DAYS

New York, Jan. 10.—The hardships and sufferings endured by wounded Serbians and Austrian prisoners of the Serbians in the recent retreat before the Teutonic armies invading Serbia are graphically related by Miss Cissy Benjamin, an English nurse who has arrived here. Miss Benjamin said hundreds of Serbian wounded perished of the cold in crossing the mountains after the flight from Prizerend and that the plight of thousands of Austrian prisoners was pitiable. "The Serbians have not sufficient bread for their own soldiers and absolutely none to give their prisoners", said Miss Benjamin. "I saw one Austrian officer break a small loaf of bread into five rations to last him five days. "I joined the British hospital at Kraguyevatz eight months ago. We had a field hospital with seventy tents. When the Bulgarian invasion began we were transformed into a flying hospital and fled to Semendria. For fifty days our hospital was moved daily and in seven weeks we rarely slept in the same place twice. At Prizerend we lost all our equipment and our hospital ceased to exist. In the retreat that followed we were generally six hours ahead of the Bulgarians. The courage and patience of the Serbian wounded was the most wonderful thing I ever witnessed. The most seriously wounded, seemingly dying, walked with us for weeks at a time over the mountains into Montenegro."

PEACE IS RESTORED IN STRIKE DISTRICT

Youngstown, Jan. 10.—An agreement was made at the headquarters of General John C. Speaks, this afternoon, that the fourth regiment which has been stationed at Berlin-Center, fifteen miles west of here, has been ordered home. The regiment, which is composed of companies from Columbus and Central Ohio will depart at once.

RIOTERS PARADE IN STOLEN SILKS

Drunk-crazed mobs invaded the dry goods stores of East Youngstown today, looting and trampling under foot by the strikers. One grungy giant wrapped himself in yard after yard of fine blue silk, while his companions were shrieking madly in jubilation.

The schools were closed here Saturday morning. Additional work was continued to report for duty at the plant of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company this afternoon. According to militia officials, command in the neighborhood of the plant, between six and seven hundred returned to work. The plant employed normally more than 9,000 men. The company announced (Continued On Page Eight)

Berlin, Jan. 10---(Wireless to Sayville)---The British army at Kut-el-Amara, in Mesopotamia has been surrounded completely by the Turks, according to Constantinople advices given out by the Overseas News Agency. It is said the Turks have advanced to the main defenses of the British. The main British army in Mesopotamia, according to these advices, is in retreat, 10,000 men having been left in Kut-El-Amara to cover the movement.

London, Jan. 10---The Turks in Mesopotamia were in full retreat on January 9 with the British pursuing them, it was announced in the house of commons today by J. Austen Chamberlain, secretary for India.

Sir Percy Lake has been appointed to command the British forces in Mesopotamia in succession of General Sir John Eccles Nixon, who has been compelled by ill health to return home, it was also announced in the house of commons.

Amsterdam, Jan. 10---(Via London)—A British force which apparently was on the way to reinforce the British at Kut-el-Amara on the Tigris river, lost three thousand men in an attack on Turkish positions at Sheikh Said, according to a semi-official statement received here today from Constantinople. The attack is declared to have been repulsed.

NATIONAL TICKET FOR BULL MOOSE

Chicago, Ill., January 10.—The national committee will decide on the place and time of the convention. There will certainly be a national convention and a national ticket will be nominated by the progressive party, Mr. Perkins said.

THREE KILLED IN EXPLOSION

Philadelphia, Jan. 10—Three men were killed and a number injured in an explosion of smokeless powder early today at the plant of the DuPont Powder Works at Carney's Point, N. J. It had number of men had lost their lives, but after an investigation the superintendent of the plant said that only three were dead and possibly four. The cause of the explosion is not known, but, according to the superintendent, there is no suspicion that the blast was due to outside agencies. The report that arrests had been made were denied.

The dead are John Walsh, Nyack, New York, Richard J. Larney, Philadelphia, and T. Clyde Wynn, address not known. The superintendent of the plant said the victims were employees but that they had no business in that part of the works where the explosion occurred. The blast was a terrific one and was felt 25 miles away.

CINCINNATI POSTMASTER HAS RESIGNED 3 BODIES RECOVERED

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 10—John L. Shuff, postmaster of Cincinnati, tendered his resignation to the postmaster general at Washington today to take effect as soon as his successor could be appointed. Mr. Shuff according to the announcement, will accept a position as general manager of one of the large insurance companies with headquarters here.

Mr. Shuff has served as postmaster here just one year and three days, having taken office on January 7, 1915.

Miss Frances Schwartz is ill with the grip at her home 1113 Tenth street.

The property loss is small as the explosion occurred in a small building of No. 1 plant of the works.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Jan. 10.—Three bodies were recovered today from the wreck of the Pittsburgh and Charleston packet Kanawha which sank in the Ohio river near here last Wednesday night. Two were identified as Mrs. E. C. Atkinson and Mrs. Ulysses Beagle, of Racine, Ohio, but the searchers were unable to identify the other, also a woman.

The bodies were found huddled together in one of the state rooms. The women apparently had fled there when the storm struck the boat. The river began to fall more rapidly today and it was expected that before nightfall search of the entire boat would be completed.

TRANSPORT FILLED WITH TROOPS SUNK

Berlin, Jan. 10 (wireless to Sayville)—The sinking of a transport ship of the allies, filled with troops at the time of the withdrawal of the French and British forces from the tip of the Gallipoli Peninsula is reported in Constantinople dispatches given out today by the Overseas News Agency.

The following dispatch under a Constantinople date was given out as follows:

"The Milli Agency states that the Turks were making preparations for three days for the attack on the British and French and that the results are not yet fully known. All the positions of the enemy near Sedd-i Bahr and Teke Burnu were occupied by the Turks, nine cannon being captured. Turkish artillery sank an enemy transport filled with soldiers. An enormous amount of booty was captured."

"A Turkish aeroplane shot down an enemy biplane near Sedd-i Bahr."

Berlin, Jan. 10.—(By Wireless to Sayville)—An offensive movement has been inaugurated by the German forces in the Champagne. Announcement was made by the war office today that French positions extending over several hundred yards at a point northwest of Masseges had been captured by the Germans.

The conquered positions are near Maisons in the Champagne. The Germans captured 423 prisoners, including seven officers, five machine guns and one large and seven small mine thro wers.

A French counter-attack, made to the east of the positions taken by the Germans, failed. A German aircraft division attacked the rear guard establishments of the Allies at Fumes.

London, Jan. 10.—A semi-official report from Constantinople, according to an Amsterdam dispatch to Reuters Telegram Company, claims "the capture by the Turks of a great enemy camp and nine guns, and the sinking of an enemy vessel with troops near Sedd-i Bahr."

This dispatch came a short time after the British War Office had announced that the allied forces had abandoned the last positions they held on Gallipoli Peninsula, and that only one man had been wounded.

This news has been expected for several days by the keen observers of the Near Eastern campaign, for the retirement of the troops from Anzac and Suvla Bay three weeks ago left no strategic advantages to the retention of the tip of the peninsula.

Berlin, Jan. 10 (wireless to Sayville)—The news of the definite failure of the Dardanelles expedition aroused joy and satisfaction in Constantinople, says the Overseas News Agency in a message distributed today. Bunting was displayed and the schools were closed.

London, Jan. 10.—The British battleship King Edward VII has been sunk as the result of striking a mine. The entire crew was saved. The sinking of the King Edward VII was announced by the admiralty in the following: "H. M. S. King Edward VII has struck a mine. Owing to the rough sea she had to be abandoned and sank shortly afterwards. The ship's company was taken off without loss of life. Only two men were injured." The King Edward was a battleship of 16,350 tons, laid down in March, 1902. She was 453 feet long, 75 feet beam and 25 feet draught. She had four 12-inch, four 2-inch and 12 3-inch guns in her main battery and was equipped with four torpedo tubes, submerged. Her speed on her trial trip was 12 knots. She had a complement of 777 men.

Paris, Jan. 10.—Heavy attacks were made yesterday by German troops in the Champagne, the war office announced today. The German attacks broke down with heavy losses, the statement says, and although they gained temporary foothold in French positions at various places, they were subsequently driven out everywhere except from portions of two advanced trenches.

ZERO WEATHER COMING

Columbus, Jan. 10.—Zero weather for Ohio by tomorrow night is predicted today by the United States weather bureau here. A cold wave coming from the northwest is now making Missouri valley residents shiver.

The advance of the low temperature will be felt by tomorrow morning when the thermometer will register freezing, the forecaster predicted. Snow will accompany the cold wave in the northern part of the state, according to the forecast.

Nell and Esther Gableman, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William N. Gableman of Park avenue are ill with the grip.

Billy Butt In Times Weather Man

I'm tired o' th' cold weather and propose to enjoy a little rain for a while. We needed rain, anyway. And besides these cold snaps run up coal and gas bills t' beat th' band. Th' chap who's lookin' for trouble don't need t' carry a telescope—he can find it easily enough without one. Here's for tomorrow:

Ohio—Rain in south, rain or snow in north portion. Colder; Tuesday much colder with cold wave. Fair except local snows near lake Erie.

Kentucky—Cloudy and colder tonight. Tuesday fair with a cold wave.

West Virginia—Rain and colder tonight. Tuesday generally fair and much colder.

"Taking Ally Troops From Gallipoli Peninsula An Act Of Mercy"

Editor's Note—The following correspondence from Constantinople written in December is substantiated by late war bulletins telling of the complete evacuation of the Gallipoli Peninsula by Allies troops. The article also gives some idea of the change in conditions of the Turkish troops at the Dardanelles. The last paragraph is of special significance, in that press dispatches apparently bear out the conclusions of the writer.

Constantinople, Dec. 30.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—The withdrawal of a large portion of the Allied troops from the Gallipoli Peninsula has been almost coincident with the arrival at the Turkish front of heavy German and Austrian batteries, which are so formidable that the people of Constantinople believe there is no longer the slightest doubt as to the ability of the Ottoman army to clear the peninsula of the invaders. Large shipments of ammunition for the Turkish artillery also recently reached the Dardanelles coast batteries and the field guns, and according to indications in the Turkish official report, the Ottoman troops are constantly increasing their effectiveness in artillery fire.

During the last interview which The Associated Press correspondent had with Field Marshal Lim von Sanders Pasha, the last Allied ships, venturing in too close, was hit. The fire of the British monitors, also by reason of being "high curve" made very difficult to retaliate. But the Turkish infantry stood its ground so bravely that it has become a popular saying in Constantinople that they defended Gallipoli "with their naked breasts."

The installment of the heavy German and Austrian guns will make it necessary for the British monitors, torpedo boats, and for some time with rifles of the antique Snyder type, they have been equipped with modernized after this. With the Allies the slightest risk, except that occasioned by the presence of German submarines. It was only occasionally that one of the van Von Sanders Pasha, the last Allied ships, venturing in too close, was hit. The fire of the British monitors, also by reason of being "high curve" made very difficult to retaliate. But the Turkish infantry stood its ground so bravely that it has become a popular saying in Constantinople that they defended Gallipoli "with their naked breasts."

Charges Against Rickey Are Not Sustained; Police News

The case of Oscar Rickey, a merchant policeman of the East End whom Ben Vancuren charged with disorderly conduct, claiming that during his absence from home Rickey had insulted his wife, was dismissed by Mayor Kaps, Saturday evening, for lack of evidence. Vancuren failed to bring any witnesses and it was also shown that he and Rickey had not been on good terms.

Holsinger Is in Contempt
Thomas Holsinger will find himself in contempt of court once he is brought before the mayor, he having failed to appear Saturday evening as ordered. Holsinger's sister-in-law, Mrs. Ida Holsinger had filed an affidavit against him for assaulting her following a dispute about some stove wood. Police have been instructed to arrest him on sight.

He Talked in Church
Field Lewis, who was arrested on an affidavit filed by Alva Gee, an officer of the Pentecostal church, was fined $50 Monday for disturbing a religious meeting there Sunday. Lewis was accused of sitting with his back towards the preacher and talking so loud that he disturbed the worshippers.

Pauline Frederick A Magnetic Bella Donna, At Lyric Tomorrow

In "Bella Donna," the photoplay adaptation of Robert Hichens' and J. B. Fagan's celebrated novel and play in which beautiful Pauline Frederick is being starred by the Famous Players-Film company, the woman who scored such a marvelous triumph as "Zaza," far exceeds her previous performance in the presentation of this wily, serpent-like viper who poisons the one man who has tried to lift her from the depths to which she has sunk. The role of "Bella Donna" is perhaps the greatest test to which any actress can be submitted, for she must be hateful, cruel, savage, treacherous, and at the same time she must be so fascinating that she will grip and hold the attention of her audience throughout the performance. And, still more difficult, she must win the sympathy of her audience sufficiently toward the end of her story to make her final punishment, however just, seem cruelly tragic.

Without a woman of Miss Frederick's tremendous personal attractiveness to play the part of Bella Donna, the play would depend chiefly upon its atmosphere for interest. Though the mysticism of the Orient, its subtlety and its luxury have been caught in the wonderful tropical settings which form the background for this tragedy, these have been held subsequent to the drama itself.

Bella Donna, a London adventuress, lures the Hon. Nigel Armine into marrying her in the hope of having her from the grasp of the capital. He takes her to Egypt, where she becomes infatuated with a powerful native, Baroudi, who persuades her to poison her husband. This she does, but as he becomes gradually weaker and weaker from the effects of the drug, Isaacson arrives and discovers her treachery in time to save the husband's life. Driven to hate Armine and foiled in her attempt to kill him, Bella Donna finally tells him the truth in a burst of uncontrollable fury. Then she goes to Baroudi, who now discards her as being too dangerous. Stunned, she returns to her home, only to be turned away by Dr. Isaacson, who sends her out into the black desert and what?

This magnificent combination of drama, histrionic supremacy and gorgeous settings is to be the Paramount picture at the Lyric tomorrow.

Three Good Pictures With a Good Song by De Bruin Columbia Tonight

The Columbia offers three good pictures tonight: "His Majesty, the King," is a special three part comedy drama from the Thanhouser studios featuring Gladys Hulette and Bert Delaney. This is a novel and unique picture filled with many interesting situations; the celebrated "Thanhouser Kids" do some of the best child-work in their history on the screen.

"Two Hearts and a Thief" is a single reel comedy with many laughs and the Mutual Weekly of current events contains all the important events of last week.

Don't forget the first number of "The Girl and the Game" the big railroad picture on next Thursday. This is one of the best railroad stories ever written and you don't want to miss the first number and each succeeding number at the Columbia every Thursday.

"Out of the Ashes" at the Majestic Tonight

Without, so dreary—within, so cheery!

Let us hope each storm-swept passer-by is hurrying on to the haven of a home where wife and the little folks are secure in their radiator-made, cheery climate, controlled by a mere turn of a valve. The poorly-heated house is a half-hearted, dreary place. The only way to flood all rooms with cleanly, wholesome, vital-giving warmth is by an outfit of

AMERICAN & IDEAL
RADIATORS & BOILERS

High winds cannot arrest nor chilling cold offset their ample flow of warmth.

A No. 21 IDEAL Boiler and 240 ft. of 3/4 in. AMERICAN Radiators costing the owner $130. were used to heat this cottage. At this price the goods can be bought of any reputable, competent fitter. This did not include costs of labor, pipe, valves, freight, etc., which vary according to climatic and other conditions.

None of the vital element is taken from the air—no injurious coal-gases, ash-dust, or red-hot surfaces to menace health, injure furnishings, or create a fire risk. Besides, the cleanly radiator heating saves immensely in women's housework.

They reduce the cost of living and better the living

IDEAL SMOKELESS Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators are the efficient, clean, healthful, silent, reliable servants of the house owner—they do more for cheer, work-saving and economy than any other material or article you put into your home!

Property thus heated sells quicker or brings 10 to 15% higher rental—a paying investment. Outlasts the building. Being the largest heating manufacturers in each of seven greatest countries of the world enables us to put into our outfits the best ideas and practices of their scientific and skilled men, and at lowest costs obtainable anywhere.

Don't wait until you build, but put in at once the genuine, enduring foundation of comfort—IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators. Five months winter still ahead. Outfits put in without disturbing present heater. Ask for the (free) book of heating facts: "Ideal Heating." Puts you under no obligation to buy. Accept no substitutes!

A genuine, practical, built-in Vacuum Cleaner—at $150

We also make the ARCO Wand Vacuum Cleaner, connected by an iron suction pipe to various floors of houses, flats, schools, churches, hotels, etc. Through a light-weight hose ALL the dirt, cobwebs, lint, threads, motes, etc., are drawn with lightning rapidity down the iron piping into big, sealed dust-bucket in cellar. No dragging around a clumsy, inefficient portable cleaner—instead, you have a practical outfit that is a part of the building—like Radiator heating. Ask for catalog (free).

EVANGELIST C. FENWICK REED BEGINS REVIVAL

Three Meetings Are Held On Sunday At Trinity Church

(By E. C. Hood)

The long looked for day among Methodists of Portsmouth finally arrived, and brought with it Fenwick Reed the evangelist, and his party of helpers who are now hard at work conducting a great Union Revival under the consolidated efforts of the four Methodist churches of the city, Fourth Street, Manly, Bigelow and Trinity. All meetings are to be held in the auditorium at Trinity church, and everybody is most heartily invited to attend.

Evangelist Reed preached in three great meetings Sunday and got away with a flying start. In the morning his sermon to church members upon the necessity of personal preparation before a revival could be had was a strong arraignment of inactive Christians and his message found its destiny in the hearts of several hundred anxious hearers.

In the afternoon he addressed the W. P. P. A. which met in convention about a thousand strong, and just to let the members of this bustling organization know how he stands on the liquor question, expressed a few pointed remarks which left no doubt in the minds of his congregation just what he thought of Brother Booze.

It remained, however, for the great evening service to cap the climax of the first day's efforts with what was perhaps the largest crowd that ever squeezed into the large auditorium, and although the auditorium was packed from pulpit to gallery and supplemented with fifteen class rooms opening toward the rostrum, many persons were turned away, unable to gain admission. The spirit and enthusiasm of the great throng certainly spells a successful revival for Portsmouth, and the old city might as well wake up to the fact that there's something doing in this line.

Music Is Big Feature
A chorus of seventy-five voices made up from the choirs of the various churches, with two pianos, under the direction of Prof. Chas. Clay Grant, the very capable musical director, who is a member of the evangelist's party, is sure to be a feature of every meeting. Prof. Grant is a director of musical ability and his Gospel solos are well rendered and very pleasing. He has already caught on with the crowds.

It is very evident that one of the biggest features of the meetings will be the singing of the two Aylesworth sisters, Edna L. and Olive P., both members of the party. Miss Edna plays the accompaniment and both sing. The two numbers given Sunday evening completely swept the large audience off their feet, for there was an entire sermon in each song. Their rendition of "Let Jesus Lead, He Knows the Way" was unusually well sung and the big congregation opened their hearts to these new-comers right away. Everyone will surely enjoy hearing these sweet singing sisters.

Those In The Party

The party is composed of Rev. C. Fenwick Reed, evangelist, Mrs. Reed, who is at present the victim of the popular malady, grip, is prominent in personal work; Miss Edna L. Aylesworth, pianist and singer; Miss Olive P. Aylesworth, singer and personal worker, and Prof. Charles Clay Grant, soloist and chorus director. Fred Sibert, formerly with Billy Sunday, was with the party up until the holidays when he was called home to California by the illness of his wife. Reports from his home are that he will probably not be able to join his fellow workers before the Portsmouth meetings close.

Explaining Collections

Rev. Reed at the evening service took a few minutes time to explain the collections which he said were always taken during every revival he had ever seen or heard tell of. He stated that the fact that they will see you come to see with God and not to see you pay the current expenses of the meetings, including the travelling expenses, salary and board of his assistants. Rev. Reed, or rather, as he stated it, his wife's husband, "Don't I know you?" One who is to get a free will offering on the last Sunday the meetings are held.

Synopsis of Sermon

Rev. Reed took his text for the evening sermon from the words of David in the twenty-seventh Psalm. His general subject was: "What Is Conversion and How to Get Right With God."

He began by explaining the Methodists did not claim any virtue in the altar for it was nothing but wood and glue and nails and varnish but the mere fact that sinners came out before all the people to kneel there was very evident they were tired of sin and wanted a change. Also it was a common meeting place for sinner and Christian. In answering the question, how to get right with God, he believes, in the old fashioned doctrine of restitution. God will forgive a man his sins but he won't forgive him his grocery bill he owes, he must pay for it in cash if he ever expects to be a Christian. If you get right with God you've got to get right with man. Then too, many people think they can be a Christian and hold a grudge against a neighbor. They pray "Forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us" and they don't mean a word of it for they don't even speak to Mrs. So and So. If a man's religion don't make him pay his honest debts it's not my kind of religion. I don't mean the poor fellow who is struggling to make both ends meet, but the fellow who runs up a store bill and then moves to keep from paying it perhaps, and then takes a trip to some summer resort with his family on money he ought to pay his debts with. There are some people who get up and sing, "O How I Love Jesus," and they don't stop to think He knows they're beating somebody out of money that should be paid.

You folks will find out before I go very far that I am not preaching about Mormons out in Utah. I'm concerned about a few things in Portsmouth. If you have an idea in your head that that old song, "Jesus Paid It All" means grocery bills, you're mistaken, there are a few things you have to pay yourself.

Reverting to the words of David in the text, the evangelist quoted: "Thy Face Will I Seek" as representing the proper attitude of all desirous of getting right with God. Religion begins with God. Where did you get yours? Did you get yours at the hand of man or God? When man converts a man he doesn't always stick but when God converts a man he pulls the Devil and that old booze self out of him and he joins the church and don't keep booze in his cellar either. The trouble with too much of the religion today is that it don't get any further down than the wind-pipe. It don't get down to the heart. When Adam sinned, God hunted him up and before the sun set that night, man and God were reconciled. God didn't say I won't speak to Adam till he apologizes to me. He went after him. God speaks tonight, He says: "Seek Ye My Face." The fellow who says he never heard God speak has not time to stop and listen. But the day is coming when out of the stillness will come a voice: "Depart from me" and he will hear that. Oh that every one in my presence would hear the words of God, "Seek Ye My Face." Religion is the coming back home to God.

David's lips were shut on his heart said: "Thy Face, Lord, will I seek." Though you come in schools or in business you must be saved alone. You must come face to face with God. You can't be saved by going to church alone. Too many people have heard religion and not heart religion. The devil tells you to sin today and get saved tomorrow. God says that now is the accepted time and the day of salvation. "The devil tells you to put it off but God tells you to put it on."

as much right to know whether you are a Christian as to know whether you are an American or whether you are married.

The evangelist here told a story of a wayward girl in London for whom her mother was wearing her life away longing for her daughter's return. As the last resort the mother had hundreds of her own photographs posted about the city with the words "Come home, Mary, I love you still" written upon every picture. In a drunken revel Mary saw one of the pictures of her mother with the invitation written thereon. It sobered her and she returned to her home. That mother didn't see a wayward girl coming home; she saw her sweet babe coming. He doesn't see you a wicked sinner. He sees you his son or daughter coming back home. I don't care how low in sin you are. God calls you tonight to come home. Have you come face to face with God or have you just joined the meeting house?

Although there was no invitation given at the morning service there were five conversions. At the evening services there were two young men converted.

Fenwick "Reeders"

Rev. C. Fenwick is an Englishman by birth and an American by choice.

"The first time I ever signed my name was to a temperance pledge."

"Some people need an operation on their back-bone—jelly taken out, sand put in."

"I'm glad to be with you. Let us pray." These were the first words spoken by Rev. Fenwick Reed when introduced to his first Portsmouth audience. He didn't wait till he got to the pulpit to say them, but arose from his seat talking and reached the pulpit praying.

Evangelist Reed says he is no reformed drunkard or gambler and has no new-fangled doctrines. He says he believes the old story of Jesus Christ and the whole Bible and for his personal creed thinks that's enough said.

In describing the revival Rev. Reed said this wasn't going to be an autograph meeting where the chief aim was to secure peoples' autographs on card-board, for this revival was not to be supported by card-board religion.

Evangelist Reed, in giving his opinion on church members, said that if he could get all the members of the Methodist churches into the Trinity auditorium and lock the doors and convert the whole bunch, there would certainly be some revival. My, that was a hot one.

"Some of you people smile and a lot of you hope we will have a good revival and you haven't been to prayer meeting for six months."

"I like to hear a man yell 'Amen' and 'Hallelujah', but if you don't pay your debts, keep still or else get a cow-bell and ring it for it will do just as much good."

"I believe in Christianity not Churchanity."

"When a church gets so she has more people out to prayer meeting than to an oyster supper, she's going some."

"When I got religion my chums give me three weeks to get over it and in three weeks my religion got all over me."

"When you get religion you don't have to ask what things you can do and what you can't do, you'll know."

"That old song: 'Jesus Paid It All', don't include your grocery bill."

"I like to hear a man yell 'Amen' and 'Hallelujah', but if you don't pay your debts, keep still or else get a cow-bell and ring it for it will do just as much good."

like bullets from a rapid fire gun, and although in an audience of two thousand, you feel sure he is talking straight to you. He is magnetic and a rapid speaker. His facial expression often tells his thoughts as plainly as his words. He is a good preacher of the live wire variety; a good story teller; thoroughly orthodox in his beliefs and unquestionably sincere in his work. He is a fair and square man, with his doctrine and preaching open and above board. He preaches as he thinks; heeds close to the line of his beliefs and lets the chips fall where they may. Christian church members are faithful and the inactive Methodists of Portsmouth are not exempt from severe and just grills.

Sidelights On The Revival; W. P. P. A. Holds Big Meeting

(By Milford Keyes)

Evangelist J. Fenwick Reed does not suggest a Middle Age mystic, nor yet John the Baptist, who wore the skins of wild beasts for wardrobe and passed up the barber shops. Neither does he recall Savanarola Zing-willi or Melancthon, and still less the militant Luther or Cromwell, nor even Calvin, who hated sin so much that he wanted to burn the sinner. No, he is a modern, up-to-date soul saver, college bred, youngish, newly married, speaks good English, wears good clothes and uses a safety razor. He is English without the accent, blond and blue-eyed, short, stocky and jolly, and King George and Kitchener would doubtless be glad to get hold of him and make him over into a "Tommy Atkins."

As an evangelist he is along the lines of Sam Jones, J. Wilbur Chapman and "Gypsy" Smith. He reminds one of Billy Sunday by the fact of his being so different. Especially in his prayers is this noticeable. Mr. Reed is spiritual and reverent, while Billy in his addresses to the Throne of Grace impressed one as being on terms of great familiarity with the Lord of Hosts. Nothing of that kind about Reed.

The morning service Sunday was largely in the hands of Trinity. The other Methodist churches held their regular morning services. Old Trinity showed herself fully aroused and indications are favorable for a great religious upheaval in the old town.

Splendid Choir Was On Hand
The splendid choir was there with very full ranks. Sam Crawford was there—no Sam the ball player, but Sam the book keeper and star tenor singer, also his talented wife and daughter, the former at the organ and the latter assisting with her graceful violin.

Low Brandon, baritone singer and mighty seller of "Woman's Bixie" was in the rear rank but Milt Shumway, singer and contractor was not visible to the eye, naked or otherwise. Harry Martin, with his sweet tenor voice, was on hand, and all the others, male and female. The brilliant array of featured soloists and so many were in their places, now the choir of good music and fine voices, and fair notes, and created much faithless dress. Professor John Davis, the leader, has reason to be proud of his well trained choir.

Professor Davis is the one who broke up the famous Edw. words Sisters' quartette of Oak Ridge, Ill. He rose up to marry her on substitutes for the money one of the sisters and bringing her sent to Portsmouth and placing her in Trinity choir with the others, then the Lord will raise you up. When the choir sang "Onward with his spirit."

The evangelist thought little of the card system of evangelism and wildly referred to persons who had come into the church through the card singing route as "card-board Christians." To such the cards were suggested card players, and if they were card players the suggestion to their minds was to keep it up. He also ridiculed the idea of having people testify by standing up or raising their hands. He is a good natured man of good music and fine voices, and fair notes, and created much faithless dress. Professor John Davis, the leader, has reason to be proud of his well trained choir.

He rose up to marry her on substitutes for the money one of the sisters and bringing her sent to Portsmouth and placing her in Trinity choir with the others, then the Lord will raise you up. When the choir sang "Onward with his spirit."

At the close of the services he called on all those who felt that they needed divine assistance in their lives to rise in their places. He moved out into the aisles and came down to the front. Every one in the congregation arose and many pressed forward.

W. P. P. A. Holds Meeting
At half past two p. m. the Workmen's Protective Association held a meeting of men in the church, and was largely attended, practically all being workmen. It was a fine looking piece of men. Prof. Grant led the large male choir and several of the pieces were sung in a manner calculated to enhance enthusiasm. The W. P. P. A. is a temperance organization, belonging to a state with eleven hundred members. The president, L. C. Payne, made a short address, reviewing the progress and prospects of the local branch. He was followed by the secretary, A. A. Oakes, who presented figures and statistics, and other matter in the line of the association's welfare. The object of the association is "Vote Ohio wife." There was no guarantee when the time comes, Harry Edwards, the Y. M. C. A. evangelist, is the live wire and chief promoter of the movement, and Moody's experience along that line and would break the rule. He made one of his rousing characteristic speeches. He aroused enthusiasm to the highest pitch. He made an impassioned call for recruits. He told the conditions upon which men could become members. All working men are available, and persons who employ labor are also eligible. Cards were passed around for persons to sign who desired to join the association, and also cards for those who were willing to contribute money.

Evangelist Reed was then introduced and delivered a very strong appeal to working men. Rev. Strecker had introduced him as an Indiana man, and the evangelist replied to this by saying he was an Indian by present location, but an Englishman by birth and an American by adoption. "Why, don't you know," he said, "I expect I am a better American than most of you fellows. You were born here and are Americans because you couldn't help yourselves, while I came to America of my own accord. I love my own country, but I love my adopted country equally well." The burden of his talk was to working men and their condition and prospects, but his address was shot through with religion and the necessity of working men and all others taking their troubles right to the throne of grace.

The male choir, led by Professor Grant, sang some enlivening pieces and a quartette, led by Adam Burkel, sang very sweetly, and the Aylesworth sisters sang a beautiful and appropriate duet, Miss Edna playing the piano accompaniment.

The meeting closed with services bordering close upon the evangelistic order.

Great Crowd In Evening
At the evening service the great auditorium of Trinity was crowded to and beyond its capacity. Every inch of space, down stairs and in the galleries, was occupied, and chairs were in the aisles and outlying classrooms. It was a glorious opening night, and indications are that the "old time religion" will be on tap in the good old River City in the near future. The choir space had been greatly enlarged, and a chorus of fifty voices, chosen from the various Methodist churches, the pipe organ is temporarily side tracked, and two pianos did duty instead. Mrs. Crawford and Miss Aylesworth were the pianists, and Miss Alice Blake and the other talented lady violinists were on hand with their instruments. Professor Grant was at his best and led the choir gloriously. Their singing of the "Crystal Sea" was a gem.

A crew of twenty-five ushers were on duty, "dressed to death" and wearing natty white badges. They were chosen from the Methodist churches, and were on the job in great shape. Geo. Gulkler, chief of ushers, and believe me "talk" knows all about ushering. People were there from every corner of the city, from Unity school house and Sunnyside to the river front, and from New Boston to the "Point."

All the Clares were there from Clay township, and the Marting family helped represent the Hill-top section, also all the Altmanus except Aleck, and he telephoned in a commendum to Ben Dillon. Bill Metcalf wasn't there, but his points family were faithful and true to old Trinity. Butch Adams and family helped represent Manly, and Bigelow was out in great force, led by Rev. Chaulier. Fourth Street was there, and right here is a good place to remark that you can't lose out for whooping cough and colds. Write to A. C. Meyer & Co. FREE TEST

Comparisons are always odious and it is altogether unnecessary to institute comparisons between Evangelist Reed and Billy Sunday. Both gentlemen have methods peculiar to themselves, and both are undoubtedly doing a great work. Sunday is a great favorite in Portsmouth and Reed will be eventually so, though their methods differ. There is no great difference, however. Both use slang at the time when slang aids in the expression of thought, and those times are frequent in the pulpit and out of it.

There is one man who is going to enjoy these meetings to the utmost. That man is E. F. Rideout, superintendent of the Railroad Y. M. C. A. His coat is off, metaphorically speaking, and he will make an effort to get the railroad boys in line.

Rev. Reed joined the church when a child, his father directing his baby hand when he signed his name. He has worked in North Wales along with Ewen Roberts, I. Campbell Morgan and other evangelists. You would never know him to be an Englishman if he did not tell you so.

CHICAGO GRAIN

AND PROVISIONS

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Higher cable quotations and a falling off in Minneapolis and Duluth receipts helped give a lift today to the wheat market here. The final abandonment of the attempt to force the hardwheat seemed to have won bullish effect and so also did notice of the commandeering of supplies in Italy.

Besides these were reports of a scarcity of good milling wheat in Ohio, Indiana and further east.

Opening prices which ranged from 1/2 to 1 1/2.

THE LATEST IN SPORT DOM

The Situation At Lexington

The Lexington Leader says: The first application for a position with the Lexington Colts has been received by Secretary Stephen James. A letter from J. W. Williams of Carlisle stated that the writer was anxious to secure a position on the Lexington club next spring and believed he could make good in a try-out.

Steve Leaguers are busy speculating on whether it will be Ohio State or Bluegrass baseball for Lexington next spring, but the magnates seem to take this stand of mild wonder as to whether there will be any club at all cavorting at League park. The question of finances is the main consideration and they say that unless there is an expression from the fans in the shape of donations sufficient to make the venture look like a success, no backing may be had from them. While the situation here seems to be in favor of the reorganization of the old Bluegrass union, Ohio State circuit stands a good show of running another season. The local situation will remain uncertainly defined until the meeting of the directors of the Lexington Exhibition Co., is held. The date for this conference has not yet been set, but it will likely come in a few weeks. Secretary James will make his final report and the magnates will see just where they stand on last year's campaign. The sale of Park and the draft money for Blackwell went a long way toward lifting the organization out of debt.

HAUGHTON'S WONDERFUL RECORD

Percy D. Haughton, who, it is understood, will act as president of the Boston National League club under the new regime, is more noted as a football player and coach than a baseball man, although he played on the varsity nine while an undergraduate at Harvard in the late nineties and captained the Crimson team of 1899.

Of late years Haughton has divided his attention between the coaching of Harvard football teams and the Boston Stock Exchange. His success, year in and year out, with the Crimson eleven, has made him one of the most famous of American football coaches. Since he took charge in 1909 the Cambridge eleven under his tuition have played seven-three games in eight years, of which 54 have been won, four lost and five tied. During this period Harvard has scored 1,242 points against its opponents.

STOVALL IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Jan. 10.—George Stovall, former manager of the Kansas City club of the Federal league is in Chicago today after traveling all the way from the Pacific coast in an effort to learn whether a place is open for him under the terms of the peace agreement between the independents and organized baseball.

Stovall said he would confer with Messrs. Tinker and Weighman.

Beebe Will Coach Team

Fred Beebe, a former Red pitcher has just been engaged to coach the varsity baseball team of Indiana University. Beebe was with Buffalo last year.

More Speed Is Cry Of Manager Herzog

Speed is what is needed to make a contender out of the Reds this year, and that is what Manager Herzog wants more than anything else in his search for players to bolster up the team. Last season Herzog himself was the only really clever base-runner on the team, falling only one theft short of Max Carey's record, the highest in the National League. Carey stole 36 bases and Herzog 35, and it was in the effort to tie the high mark of the speedy Pirate that the Red leader was caught napping off first base in the last game of the season, something that very rarely happens to so smart a runner as he.

HERZOG'S ANGLING FOR CY WILLIAMS

Cy Williams

Buck Herzog, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, is said to be angling for Cy Williams, the classy Cub gardener. It is understood that if Tinker disposes of Williams he will send him to Cincinnati, as that club needs a man like Williams more than any other major league club.

Don't let another sun set with your WANT untold. Use the TIMES which reaches over 9,000 homes every day.

To Retain Stallings

New owners of the Boston Braves issued a statement that Manager Stallings would be retained and that he would continue to be in absolute charge of the team. Rumor has it that Mr. Gaffney, who disposed of the Braves will become financially interested in the New York Giants.

BURK IN MOVIE GAME

Columbus, Jan. 10.—Sanford Burk, pitcher extraordinary with the Indians last season, who jumped into the line fight when he took the Federal hurdle, is now a magnet. Not a baseball magnate but a flicker opera magnate on a rather small but profitable scale in his own neck of the woods on Cleveland avenue in that part of the city once called Milo.

Gladiators To Clash

Those two ring gladiators, Porky Flynn and Bearcat Jack Dillon will swap punches in the same ring tonight in Memphis. Dillon is the favorite and should have no trouble in trouncing his heavier opponent.

May Play Ashville

Coach Trout of the local high school basketball team has received a letter from the manager of the Ashville, O., high school team. The manager of the Ashville team says the school had the second best team in the state last season and that the team this year is better. The letter gives Coach Trout the choice of several open dates, and it is likely that two games will be arranged with the Ashville quintet.

TO BE BENCH MANAGER

Manager Higgins of the St. Louis Cardinals is going to direct the playing of his team from the bench this season. He believes his days of real usefulness on the diamond are practically at an end. His plans to manage from the bench and surrender his post to a younger, more agile and a stronger swiftness than he is.

Brown Is Retained

Cambridge, Mass., Jan. 10.—The signing of a contract for another year's services by Reginald W. P. Brown, advisory coach, Harvard football team, was announced today. For more than twenty years Brown has been associated with football at Harvard and his work has been that of a strategy expert. It is not yet known whether Coach Perry D. Haughton's purchase of an interest in the Boston National league will prevent his return to his position at Harvard.

MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure and Eat Less Meat.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts, put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

WELL OF ALL THINGS!

Dutch Zarago of Cincinnati, well known in local fandom, is thirteen with death in tragic form. He is anxious to become a Glass U umpire. We opine that arduous work in the trenches would be less dangerous, especially past three or four months.

Property Of Ironton Team

Sunday's Champion said: Dan Harding will not return to the Big Stone Gap club next season, as he is under reserve in Ironton, Ohio, in the Ohio State League.

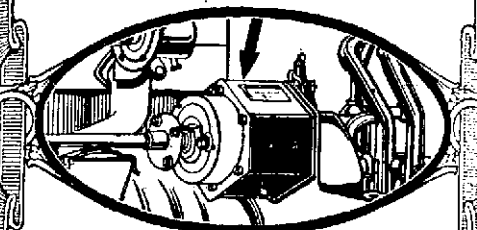

VICTIM OF PNEUMONIA

After a short illness with pneumonia, death at 11:20 Sunday night claimed Herbert Smith, colored, who passed away at the home of his parents, George and Anna Smith, who reside at 1126 Thirteenth street. Smith was 20 years old and was well known in local colored circles. The funeral arrangements have not been completed, but interment will be made in Greenwood.

Scientists discover the cause of bleeding gums and loose teeth

The old idea that bleeding gums and loose teeth (symptoms of pyorrhea) are due to little pieces of tartar or bone under the gums, has been exploded. Scientists have made the astounding discovery that this disease is caused by a germ which is found in every human mouth.

This germ is the most active and destructive enemy of your teeth. Are you protecting them against it? You can ward off its constant attack and escape the dread results of the disease by using the proper corrective and preventive treatment in your daily toilet.

To meet the need for this treatment and to enable everyone to take the necessary precautions against this disease, a prominent dentist has put his own prescription before the public in the convenient form of Senreco Tooth Paste. Senreco contains the best corrective and preventive for pyorrhea known to dental science. Used daily it will successfully protect your teeth from this disease. Senreco also contains the best harmless agent for keeping the teeth clean and white. It has a refreshing flavor and leaves a wholesomely clean, cool and pleasant taste in the mouth.

Start the Senreco treatment tonight—full details in the folder wrapped around every tube. Symptoms described. A 2 1/2 oz. tube is sufficient for six or eight weeks of the pyorrhea treatment. Get Senreco at your druggists today, or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Senreco Remedies Co., 506 Union Central Bldg., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Fire Victim Alive

Mary, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Dillow, who live near Greenup, was reported just barely alive Monday afternoon. The child's clothes ignited from an open grate Saturday afternoon and she was seriously burned about the arms and body. Dr. H. T. Morris, of Greenup, stated today that the burns would more than likely prove fatal.

RUN AWAY WITH BOOTH

A team of horses belonging to L. H. Henderson became frightened and ran away after a bolt pulled out of place from a portable voting booth to which they were attached Monday. The horses ran from the Henderson home to the Leet planing mill before being stopped. The booth was but slightly damaged.

Overcome
By Gas

John Kountz, employed at the filtration plant of the new water works, was overcome with gas fumes Saturday about noon. The wind blew out the gas in the furnace and caused the fumes to fill the building. Kountz pitched headlong on the cement floor, a gash being cut in his forehead. He was unconscious for a short time. Kountz was found by George P. Shute, chief hydraulic sanitary engineer.

"Train Riding" Habit Is Mentioned In Charge, By Judge.

Effort May Be Made To Land Whisky Carrier; Jury Meets

Special attention of the members of the grand jury was called to the growing practice of train-riding by Judge Thomas when the jury convened in special session Monday afternoon at one o'clock. That in addition to the regular charge of the court.

Judge Thomas asked the jury-men to co-operate as much as possible with the city authorities in endeavor to break up the practice which has assumed serious proportions of late in both the city and county. Some indictments are likely to be returned in this connection.

Between ninety and one hundred witnesses have been subpoenaed to appear before the jury which will be in session three or four days. Several cases have been transcribed from the lower courts, and there are rumors of certain special investigations that will be made during this session.

It is understood that the dry leaders of the county are seeking an investigation of the alleged practice of a man carrying liquor into dry territory.

Solomon Dever, of Madison township, is the foreman of the jury. Three talesmen, David Stewart, John Schner and George Wilhelm, all of this city, were added in place of three regular jurors who were unable to attend the session.

ous illness of her father, N. W. Williams, and who was expected home Saturday, writes that her father has suffered a relapse and his condition quite critical. She does not know when she can come home. Mr. Eichhorn, one of the foremen of Excelsior Shoe factory is quite ill with grip, but still up and about his work.

Miss Goldie Patton, bookkeeper at the Woolworth store, returned to work Monday morning after a several days' illness with the grip.

Mrs. Harry M. Sikes and three children, Margaret, Linn and Irma, of Seventh street, are all sick with the prevailing fashionable disease, grip.

Mrs. Julia Fisher of Gay street is reported critically ill with pneumonia.

Eugene Wurster of 1607 Sixth street is afflicted with the grip.

D. D. McCray, assistant sales manager of the Whitaker-Glessner company, has returned to his office after a week's illness with the grip.

"There are fully 30 children of the Holy Redeemer school afflicted with the grip and unable to attend their studies," said Rev. J. E. McGuirk, Monday. "And three Sisters, Dominica, Lucien and Philip have been quite ill with the grip. Sister Dominica has practically recovered," Father McGuirk said today.

Obie Morris, a Punk's Run carpenter, is recovering from a severe siege of pneumonia.

Prayers were offered up at St. Mary's church Sunday for Philip Yuenager, aged 72 years, who is one of the oldest members of the parish and new critically ill at his home, No. 627 Eighth street.

Mr. Yuenager recently suffered a paralytic stroke and has had his cough incessantly for the past eight years. Rev. Father T. A. Goebel was prompted to remark Sunday that in the past week he had received more sick calls than during any similar period since becoming pastor of St. Mary's church.

Hiram Gray, of Greenup, is seriously ill with pneumonia.

Night Watchman John Kielman, of Front street, who recently fell and fractured his right ankle, continues to mend a little each day.

Charles Wallace, of Ninth street, is ill with rheumatism.

Mrs. Anna Carl, of Offene street, who was recently stricken with paralysis, continues in a critical condition.

Harry Hyland, who is employed by the Selby Shoe company, has returned to his work after a week's illness with grip.

Thomer Smith, of Twelfth street, is ill with the grip.

Mrs. Jacob Brunner, who has been ill at her home on Fifth street for three weeks, is convalescing.

Mrs. A. Z. Blair, of Rose Ridge, is ill with the grip.

Frank Schwartz resumed his duties as brakeman on the Portsmouth-Hamden mail train Monday, after having been laid up for three weeks with an injured hand.

Mrs. Henry Bullwinkle, of 529 Sixth street, went out to Hempstead Hospital today for a slight operation. Everything being successful, she will return home in about a week.

The many friends of Mrs. G. F. Hardgrove will be sorry to learn that she has taken a change for the worse and is seriously ill with stomach trouble at her home, 1014 Findlay street. Relatives have been summoned to her bedside.

Miss Audrey Noel, one of the bravest little girls in the city, who was a patient at Hempstead hospital for four and a half weeks and who underwent an operation for appendicitis, was removed to her home at 928 Washington street, Sunday.

Officer Pete Price, who succeeded Officer Bob Lauterback, resigned, is threatened with pneumonia, according to word that reached headquarters from his home Monday.

Mrs. William Ham, who has been very ill at her home on Seventh street, was reported better Monday.

Clark Fullerton, superintendent of the High school, Miss Blanche Noel, a Bond street teacher, and Miss Margaret Quinn, of the Lincoln school building, were detained from their work Monday by the grip.

Ralph Spriggs, clerk at the John Kyle pharmacy, is laid up with grip.

Frank Bryan, proprietor of the Biggs house cafe, is ill with grip.

Ed. McGlone has resumed his duties as meat cutter at P. F. Frederick's meat market after a few days' siege of la grippe.

Miss Beatrice Stone, of South Portsmouth, who was operated upon last week, was reported much better Monday.

William P. Newkirk, local yardmaster of the H. & O. S.-W. railroad, has a touch of the grip, but is pluckily sticking to his post of duty.

Probate Judge Bentley, who was off duty last Friday on account of a grip attack, was compelled to leave his office early Monday afternoon because of illness.

DUAL LIFE LEADS TO TRAGEDY

Joliet, Ill., Jan. 10.—John Robert, wealthy head of the Robert Welding Works here, was shot to death at his office by Lillian Piper, a waitress, who then shot herself through the head, dying soon afterward.

Robert's recovery is doubtful. The young woman claimed she had been wronged by Robert and that he had cast her aside. A note pinned to her clothing read: "The wages of sin is death", and gave her father's name as William Ogden of Richmond, Va. Physicians who attended Robert told him that his recovery was doubtful. At the hospital he is said to have declared his real name was John Ulrich and that seven years ago he deserted his wife and four children in West Philadelphia. He is also said to have told that Lillian Piper who lived with him as Mrs. Robert had deserted her husband, John Piper, in West Philadelphia for him.

District Attorney Henderson made public a letter received by him from Governor Willis in which the state executive asked that an investigation be made into the causes of the strike and Friday night's riot.

Many witnesses were examined
by the grand jury during the morning.

A report will probably be made late this week, according to the district attorney.

Youngstown, O., Jan. 10.—Six arrests were made today in connection with the robbing and burning of the East Youngstown post office. The arrests were made following raids on the homes of foreigners in order to recover loot alleged to have taken from stores during the rioting.
According to federal post office
authorities here, stumped envelopes and other matter stolen from the office were found in their homes. The men will be taken to Canton, Ohio, where they will be arraigned before the United States Commissioner. All the men are foreigners. Their names have not been made public.

Prosecuting Attorney Henderson this afternoon telephoned the attorney general at Columbus and requested that an assistant be sent here to aid in the investigation and prosecution of riot cases.

Youngstown, O., Jan. 10.—
Shots were fired at soldiers
by snipers located in hills,
Sunday, but they were not discovered.

Youngstown, O., Jan. 10.—The grand jury today began an investigation into the riot in East Youngstown Friday night. More than 200 men have been arrested and a majority of these will be held pending the outcome of the probe, which will be made under the direction of A. E.
Henderson, prosecuting attorney of Mahoning county.

The gates of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company's plant, which has been tied up because of a strike of laborers, were reopened today and preparations are being made to resume operations soon. Many former employees reported for duty and were at once put to work. The exact number to return was not made public. The furnaces are still banked, but workers were assigned to cleaning up and making repairs.
No disturbances were reported.

Both regiments of the Ohio National guard, which have been quartered on null property since their arrival early Saturday, were removed last night. For the present they will continue to occupy their trains near the plant, but will be moved to quarters in other parts of this city and East Youngstown as soon as arrangements can be made.

Prod C. Croston, mediator sent here in an effort to settle the strike,
continued his conferences with representatives of the company and employees today. Mr. Croston conferred yesterday with James A.

Campbell, president of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. He also plans to discuss the situation with T. J. Brady, of the Republic Iron and Steel Co., whose employees are also on strike.

Everything From Shoes To Dressed Pigs Were Found

The round up of persons who are alleged to have participated in the looting
Friday night continues.
Nearly 250 foreigners were arrested while wagon loads of articles of every description found in their homes and varying from shoes to dressed pigs, were brought to the East Youngstown police station.

These things, according to the police, were alleged to have been stolen from stores attacked by the mob.
Because of the large number of arrests, every bit of available space at the county jail in Youngstown has been filled with prisoners and plans are being made to place others in a large room
in the court house under guard.

Youngstown, O., Jan. 10.—Believing that the situation is well under control following two days of tranquility after the rioting Friday night, preparations are being made to reopen the plants of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company in East Youngstown and Struthers.
President James A. Campbell, of the company, said today that former employees who report will be put to work making repairs incident to a resumption of operations within a few days. He denied that strikebreakers would be imported.

President Campbell said that many workmen had informed the company that they desired to return to work, but were afraid, as their families had been threatened.

"We do not need any protection for ourselves, but we want to have our workers, their families and their homes protected," said President Campbell. "This awful calamity could have been averted had proper precautions been taken. We are willing to assist the state authorities to bring about a settlement of the trouble."

He denied that guards employed by the company were responsible for the riot Friday night, which cost the lives of two persons and resulted in property loss amounting to $100,000 or more, that they fired the first shots.

Prod C. Croston, of Columbus, O., representing the state and sent here
in an effort to settle the labor disturbances, conferred with representatives of both sides. He refused to discuss the results of these conferences, but said that others would follow tomorrow. Arrangements were also made that James H. Nutt, district attorney of public safety of this city, has been appointed to represent the company in the negotiations with its employees who are also on a strike.

Twenty-five thousand sight-seers thronged the main lined streets of East Youngstown Sunday, arriving in special trains from various parts of Eastern Ohio and Western Pennsylvania. Every street car from Youngstown was filled and every private owner of cars transferred the machines into jitney buses to haul
the throngs to the scene.

The situation was quiet throughout the day. At Struthers, where 600 militiamen under command of Colonel Edward Vollrath, of Bucyrus,
Ohio, are stationed.

ALLIES

London, Jan. 10.—The British retirement from the Dardanelles was referred to by Premier Asquith in addressing the house of commons this afternoon.

"The house will learn with the retirement of the force at Cape Helles (at the tip of the Gallipolis Peninsula) without the loss of a single life," the premier said. "Of 11
guns left behind 10 were worn out, 15 pounders which were retained until further service before they were abandoned. All stores of reserve ammunition which could not be removed were set afire before the retirement.
The whole retirement was conducted with minimum losses. These operations, taken in conjunction with the earlier ones from Suvla
and Anzac are believed without parallel in naval or military history."

ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

Providence, R. I., Jan. 10.—Efforts to establish responsibility for the murder of Dr. C. Franklin Mohr on August 31 last will be made by the prosecution in the trial of his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth F. Mohr, and two negroes, Cecil V. Brown and Henry Spellman, which was set for today. Justice Charles F. Stearns will preside. The negroes are directly charged with murder.

Mrs. Mohr was indicted as an accessory before the fact.

As disclosed in the preliminary hearings, the state will seek to show that Mrs. Mohr instigated Brown and Spellman to shoot her husband.

LOOKING FOR BIG TREASURE

Vancouver, B. C., Jan. 10.—
Workmen employed by the bank of Montreal continued today the digging begun yesterday in an effort to unearth $43,000 of the $271,000 stolen from the bank's branch in New Westminster in 1911.

Information recently was received by the bank that $20,000 in gold and $23,000 in bills had been cashed near this city. The sources of the information, according to the bank officials is such that they are confident the lost money will be recovered
at the place indicated.

JEWELS STOLEN

San Francisco, Calif., Jan. 10.— Jewels valued at $26,000 belonging to Lieutenant Commander Wm. P. Cronan, U. S. N., and said to have been stolen from a trunk somewhere between Overbrook, Pa., and San Francisco were being sought here today by detectives in the employ of the Wells Fargo Express.

SUIT DISMISSED

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—
The government's Anti Trust suit beginning in the New York federal courts before the war against Engels in steamship lines charged in carrying steaming passengers,
was dismissed today by the supreme court on the ground that the alleged general pool agreement had become "void of activities" by the war.

SIX OF ELEVEN NEW HAVEN DIRECTORS ARE ACQUITTED

New York, Jan. 10.—Six of the eleven former directors of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, charged by the government with the criminal violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, were found not guilty late Sunday afternoon by the jury that for nearly three months has been trying the case. The jury disagreed on the five others.

Those acquitted were D.
Newton Barney, Farmington, Conn.; Robert W. Taft, Providence, R. I.; James S. Hemingway, A. Heaton Robertson and Frederick F. Brewster,
New Haven and Henry K.
McHarg, Stamford, Conn.

Those on whom the jury disagreed were William Rockefeller, New York; Charles F.
Brooker, Ansonia, Conn.;
Charles M. Pratt, Brooklyn;
Lewis Oas Ledyard, New York and Edward D. Robbins, New Haven.

The verdict was returned at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon after 51 hours of deliberation and the jury was discharged. The final vote on the five defendants upon whom the jurors could not agree stood eight to four for acquittal.

R. L. Batts, chief counsel for the government, announced that in due time he would move for a new trial of these five. This will be done, he said, before any effort will be made to try the six other former directors of the road
who were indicted, but who obtained the right to be tried separately.

The jurors did not reach their verdict until after they had reported to Judge Hunt earlier in the day that they could not agree.
Up to that time, noon, they had been deliberating with a view to bringing in a verdict on the guilt or innocence of the defendants collectively. The court then instructed them to make further efforts to concur and that if they could not agree upon all, to try and reach a decision on some. The vote of the question of all at that time stood eight to four for acquittal, it was said.

On returning to the jury room
the jurors removed their discussion with the court's instructions
in mind and unanimously eliminated the six defendant who were acquitted. Two of the four jurors, who had voted against the defendants originally stood firm, however, against Messrs. Rockefeller, Ledyard, Brooker, Pratt and Robbins. Then the other two switched to their original position, leaving eight to four as the final verdict.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Although Attorney-General Gregory declined to comment on the verdict in the New Haven case it is believed here that the department of justice probably will ask for new trials in the case of the five men about whom the jury was in disagreement. Some officials of the department were plainly gratified over the fact that so many of the defendants failed to secure acquittal, and took the view that the men about whom the jury disagreed were the most prominent figures in the upbuilding of the New Haven system. The attorney general is expected later to announce the position of the department in regard to further action.

ments regarding the curative or therapeutic effects thereof, was upheld as constitutional today by the supreme court.

Unparalleled Growth In Financial World Say U. S. Comptroller

Washington, Jan. 10.—"Development and growth never paralleled in the financial history of any country" is the way John Skelton Williams, comptroller of the currency, describes in his annual report to congress, the operation of the national banks under his charge, during the period from October, 1914, to November, 1915,
the first year under the Federal Reserve system. The report was today presented to congress.

Mr. Williams gives a comparative statement of the condition of the national banks to back up his statement. He shows that net resources of the banks increased in the year $1,743,878,648, that deposits increased $2,081,530,164 and that loans and discounts increased $917,450,502. Available cash increased in the same period $862-000,000 and on November 10, 1915
the reporting national banks had excess reserves of $891,000,000.
Tables show the comparative condition of banks in 1895 and 1915.
In September, 1895, there were 3, 712 reporting banks with net deposits of $1,389,300,000 and loans and discounts of $2,059,408,402
while in November, 1915, there were 7,617 reporting banks with net deposits of $9,079,471,447,
loans and discounts of $7,233,928-973.

"The reserves held by the national banks November 10, 1915," says the report, "exceeded by $337,000,000 the greatest reserves ever held at any time prior to the passage of the Federal Reserve act. Loans and discounts amounted to more than the total loans and discounts of all banks, including national, state, savings
and private banks and loan and trust companies—as late as the year 1902."

Mr. Williams says that the banking power of the United States—the capital surplus, circulation deposits, etc.—of all reporting banks, national and otherwise with an estimate of the figures for non-reporting banks,
amounted in June, 1915, to $25-437,100,000, an increase in a year of about $1,037,100,000. Savings bank deposits increased by 170-256 during the year ending last June with total deposits of $4-997,706,013, an increase of $61-11,163. The average deposit, however, decreased from $444.36
to $442.83 while the number of banks increased from 2,100 to 2-159.

The comptroller's principal recommendation for legislation is for an amendment to the bank law authorizing and directing the department of justice to bring suits against insurers upon information furnished either by the comptroller or through other sources.

Other recommendations given Bank Failures propose: To prohibit officers from borrowing from their own banks; to prevent loans to directors except with the approval of the board; to require officers and employees to give surety bonds; to limit direct and indirect loans to one individual, firm or corporation; to prevent or limit overdrafts; to require certificates of deposit to be signed by two directors; to prevent endorsements on the books of a bank
to limit interest paid on deposits;
to authorize the establishment of branches in the United States; to permit branches in Alaska and insular possessions; to authorize minimum interest charges; (which ordinarily might be usury)
—on small loans and to authorize the comptroller to bring proceedings against directors for losses sustained by a bank through violation of the bank act.

NATIONAL

The general opinion of the committee was that the convention would be held in Chicago
during the week of June 7 when the republican national convention is in session here.

The progressive committee
who arrived today include:
Ohio: A. L. Garford, Walter F.
Brown, Marshal Shepley.

Pennsylvania: William Flynn,
E. A. Van Valkenburg.

Col. Cecil Lyon, progressive national committeeman from Texas gave his opinion on the coming campaign in a few words:

"If the republicans do not nominate Theodore Roosevelt, Woodrow Wilson will be re-elected president of the United States,"

ENCOURAGING REPORTS ON THE KAISER

Rome, Jan. 10.—The latest reports received here regarding the German emperor minimize the seriousness of his condition and contradict wild rumors circulated not long ago. These reports received from Germany through Swiss land say that the emperor was affected by a malignant growth in the throat which required a such operation.

A high church official, who deserted to secure this report, was assured that the doctors believed if complications do not arise in the operation, the emperor will be able to resume work this month or early in February.

WOULD HAVE ALL BRIDEGROOMS INSURED AND ALSO MAKE THEM SIGN TEMPERANCE PLEDGE

Before a splendid audience, Sunday evening, Rev. Charles R. Oakley, minister of the First Christian church, brought forth some new thoughts in his sermon on "Assurance." In the course of his remarks, Rev. Oakley stated: "I think a law should be passed compelling every man who applies for a marriage license not only to produce a certificate from a reputable physician that his body is clean and pure, but he should be forced to have in his possession a life insurance policy. Further he should be forced to sign a temperance pledge."

Rev. Oakley stated that in this day and age of the world business men had practically reduced worry to a minimum by carrying insurance policies on their properties. "These business men for a few dollars shift the responsibility of loss upon the shoulders of the big insurance companies who are quite ready to assume the responsibility."

"Not only that," continued the speaker, "but it is the thoughtful man who provides well for the future of his family. A life insurance policy will care for the widow and orphans and it is the duty of every man to carry plenty of insurance against his death."

"The citizens of any community owe it to the present generation to see to it that living conditions are made as healthful as possible. Sewers should be constructed—sewers that carry away the filth and dirt. And let me say right here," continued the speaker, "that much work along this line should be done right here in Portsmouth. I have lived in quite a number of places, but I am forced by conditions to say that I never lived in a city where there was more sickness than right here in Portsmouth. I can walk down most any street, and by the color of the dirty water in the gutters tell whether it is washed. Dish water is dumped into a kitchen sink and allowed to flow to the streets, forming cess pools that breed disease. Sanitary sewers should connect every home in the city—bath water no right in the gutters."

In closing Rev. Oakley paid a beautiful tribute to womanhood and motherhood. He stated that every girl lead to the altar should demand a pure, true and clean man in exchange for her purity and chastity. "Man sets much in store for the woman he chooses for his wife and at the same time may be diseased and a libertine. No marriage certificate should be issued to a man unless he is clean of life and body."

"And," continued the speaker, "the soul of man is too precious to be cast into hell. No man is fit to be the right kind of a husband unless he has insured his soul. It is wrong to live with a pure woman and when death overtakes her husband to know that he has gone to Hades and that the grave marks the end of it all—no hope for the future, no meeting again over yonder. It is hard to bear this separation—and it is terrible for the widow to realize that she now faces an abyss, lined with despair and gloom. We should all live so that when it comes our time to answer the call, our friends will be buoyed up with the fact that the parting is only for a short time and that we will meet again on the other shore."

LOCAL BAKER GIVES ADVICE

We can't all be devotees of the arch ills for a long time and tried great out-of-doors, and so the office and shop men and women too often pay the penalty of the all-day grind behind closed doors.

There comes, in many cases, the sluggishness that is bred of physical inactivity and the ailments that mark the indoor man for their own.

To say "I feel good all over," is to speak the acme of content and when this is supplemented by a steady, healthy increase in weight after a long period of suffering the fortunate man usually feels that he wants to share his good luck with the less fortunate "other fellow."

That is the spirit that prompted J. M. Binder, who is proprietor of the popular bakery just north of Tenth street on Chillicothe street to tell his interesting story. "After personally testing Tanlac," he explained, "I have found a remarkable change in my condition since I began the Tanlac treatment."

"I suffered with various stomach ills for a long time and tried a number of remedies but none had the effect on me that this medicine has. I feel like new. It has added energy and vigor to me and I can eat most anything now without being afraid of any after effects."

Statements from men of the character of Mr. Binder, who have spent years in the business of the Peerless City, eliminates any element of doubt as to the merits of this now famous reconstructive tonic.

Catarrh of the stomach and kidneys is the most frequent cause of dyspepsia and Bright's disease. Tanlac aids nature in combating these disorders. Its cleansing powers and tonic effect gives the best results for catarrh of any known preparation. Scores of Portsmouth's best people are daily testifying that this Master Medicine has overcome this condition in its most obstinate stages.

Tanlac may be obtained at the Fisher & Streich Pharmacy; at Lucasville from Dr. R. H. Cox, and at New Boston from E. H. Colburn.—Adv.

THIRTY YEARS WITH ONE COMPANY

Monday marked the rounding out of James Beaver's thirtieth year in the employ of the Ohio Stove company as a pattern-maker. Mr. Beaver learned his trade at Circleville, O., and before going to the Ohio stove foundry worked at the old Ferdinand foundry, in the West End. He is one of the original members of the River City band.

HAD SCRAP WITH A CHICKEN THIEF

Luther Griffin, a teamster, claims to have had quite an exciting struggle with a chicken thief at his home on Front street Saturday night. Luther had just returned from a shopping trip down town and heard a noise in his shed. Receiving no response to his calls, he was startled at the sight of a tall man crouching from the shed with a big fat hen under his arm. He struck the fellow, knocking him down. The man got up and ran upon the rear porch, only to lose his balance and injured himself in falling. Luther went inside the house to secure a lamp and when he returned to the yard found the man had left. Luther saved the chicken.

ACHES AND PAINS

Don't neglect a pain anywhere, but find out what causes it and conquer the cause. A pain in the kidney region may put you on your back tomorrow. Don't blame the weather for swollen feet. It may be an advanced warning of Bright's disease. A pain in the stomach may be the first symptom of appendicitis. A crick in a joint may be the forerunner of rheumatism. Chronic headaches more than likely warn you of serious stomach trouble. The best way is to keep in good condition day in and day out by regularly taking GOLD MEDAL FLAVORLESS OIL Capsules. Sold by reliable druggists. Money refunded if they don't help you. Beware of substitutes. The only pure imported Haverhill Oil Capsules are the GOLD MEDAL.

NEW HOUSES AT KENOVA

Huntington, W. Va., Jan. 10.—One hundred new houses are needed to be built at once at Kenova for people who will shortly be employed there at the plants of the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing company and the Mine Car company, according to an announcement by M. Krohn, managing director of the Kenova-Huntington Land company.

Mr. Krohn stated he would shortly issue an appeal to investors to build houses in Kenova.

The pottery is expected to commence operations about March 15 and the mine car plant about February 15.

If enough houses are not built by private investors, Mr. Krohn stated his company would probably organize a company to bring the total up to the number needed.

MISTAKE MADE IN NAMES

The Times regrets exceedingly the publication of an item in its Saturday issue, stating that the Bank cafe restaurant, owned by W. A. Ward, Chillicothe street, would remain open Sunday. The item was carried as a black face paid item, and was telephoned to the office, the mistake being made in the name of the restaurant. Mr. C. C. Meek, who telephoned the item, is the proprietor of a restaurant and his name should have been signed to the item. The publication came about through a misunderstanding of names. Mr. Meek operates a restaurant in the East End, and will carry a complete announcement in The Times later in the week, concerning his business.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

"The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a doctor—constipation—drugs—ruin your eyes—drugs—ruin your face—drugs—ruin your body."

Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound which with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective.

They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the system and leading the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color, 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Dear Miss Wise—Please name the different governors of Ohio during the Civil War.

The Ohio Civil War governors were William Dennison 1860-1862, David Tod 1862-1864, and John Brough 1864-1865.

Dear Miss Wise—Would you advise a young man who has an excellent home to marry at an early age, say 25?

YOUNG MAN.
It depends entirely on circumstances, and the man. As a general thing 25 is a good age to marry. A man has usually by that time begun on the work that is to be his "life work," and the right woman can help him. It isn't always the most advisable thing to wait until a man has reached the pinnacle of success before marrying, because the sacrifices that a man and woman go through when life is in the making cannot but be a bond that holds for life. If you are not willing to give up the habits and minor comforts that are part of a man's life when he lives at home, and assume the responsibilities, don't marry, because you would make yourself and your wife unhappy, but if you feel that you know the woman who can be a real helpmate, marry her.

Dear Miss Wise—Will you please answer a few personal questions for me, concerning nursing. Is there any school where nursing only is taught? Could you please explain a course of nursing, cost, etc. I have heard it said that nursing begins by office work. Is this so and how long would it take to learn such a course? I can't write just what I mean, but probably you will understand.

OUT OF TOWN GIRL.
A good education is required before a first class hospital will accept a girl for training. She must also show good moral character and physical fitness. Apply to the superintendent of nurses at any hospital which is convenient for you. There is no charge and in fact you are given board and room and a small additional salary for your services during training. You will never have to do anything that looks like office work. Your first duties will probably be cleaning and scrubbing. Before you enter a training school you might as well make up your mind that you will do anything and everything that comes your way in the line of work. In fact, there is nothing else but hard work and long hours in a hospital.

wife because who wants a hubby that looks like her father or a beau with a tooth brush on his upper lip? If these old bachelors only knew that it would make them look 10 years younger they surely would pull them off in a hurry. Now, Dolly, please print this so all old bachelors with whiskers will please take notice.

THE BUNCH.
Dear Miss Wise—In rummaging through an old scrap-book the other day I came across the enclosed clipping in regard to the stamp language. I do not believe in it and hope no one else does, but would like to have it published anyway if you don't mind giving me a little space.

INTERESTED READER.
A stamp placed in the upper right hand corner, straight up and down, indicates "sincere regard," placed upside down in the same place indicates "hatred"; cornerwise, "a kiss"; crosswise, "love"; in the upper left hand corner, "shall always love you"; in the lower left, "shall always love you"; in center at top of envelope, "I wish you lifelong happiness"; at bottom of envelope, "I wish you sorrow and unhappiness"; center of left edge, "I would rather talk than write to you"; on level with name, "growing friendship"; two penny stamps placed in the upper right hand corner, "I shall always remember you"; placed crosswise, "I long to see you"; cornerwise, "I have never met another like you"; a stamp placed on the back of the envelope, "I wish you to write no more."

SOCIETY

The Willing Workers of the First Christian Sunday school held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Miss Flora Wilson, 1514 Third street. It being the first of the year, officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows:

COL. LAMPTON'S VIEWS

A short time ago we remarked that our friend, Colonel William J. Lampton, formerly of this garden valley of the world, but for many years existing in the tainted atmosphere of the effete East, seemed to entertain some feeling about the great war now unhappily going on across the water. Colonel Lampton writes to assure us of the absolute correctness of our surmise. Furthermore he explains just exactly what those feelings are, and requests that if we use the article we be sure to use it exactly as it is written. His views are interesting whether you agree with him or not as to his estimate of the Kaiser. His article follows:

To The Editor of The Times:

It was extremely nice of you to headline me so conspicuously in The Times of Dec. 20, but, say, you slipped a cog when you said that I was sitting in the white light of adoration of Col. Roosevelt. On the contrary, and you would admit it, if you had read some of the slams in verse I have handed out to him during the past few years. But they were for him as a politician, not as a patriot. There I am with him, not adoringly, but something more substantial than that. One day last spring I received an invitation to take tea with the Colonel—I had never met him—he explaining that he wanted to meet as straight-out an American as I was. Of course I went—only two others were present—and when I told him I did not endorse his politics as I did his patriotism, he said he didn't give a damn for a man's politics if he had no hyphen in his patriotism. On this platform we stood together and instead of my making a formal call of a few minutes, we kept it going for nearly two hours and might have been at it yet, only Mrs. Roosevelt came in and carried the Colonel away with her. And the Colonel didn't take anything stronger than tea, and didn't smoke, but he did say damn, which is perfectly justifiable in referring to hyphenated patriotism.

You are right in saying further along in your remarks that I entertain some feeling about the war now unhappily going on across the water, and in order that any Portsmouth friends of mine may know exactly what those feelings are, I will say in just as large type as you will see that I want to see the German people wake up to the fact that they are being bunced by the Kaiser to a finish of every hope of Democracy that they ever had; that they are being played into an autocracy that means an end to popular rights and the development of a despotism as deadly to human liberty as the world has ever known. When they wake up to that, Prussia will become Germanized, not Germany Prussianized. If on the other hand, the Kaiser should conquer the whole world as he dreams he will, my only hope and consolation is that he will hand out with an iron hand to hyphenates in this country the kind of militarism they, or their ancestors, ran away from their Fatherland to escape. And the rougher he makes it the greater will be my consolation.

Sentiments of that sort may not secure the German vote for me, but every patriotic, straight-out American is with me and we all shout in the language of Marse Henry Wallerson whose state is next door to Portsmouth—"to hell with the Kaiser"! America first, last and all the time, with no divided allegiance is the only genuine brand of true citizenship. All others are imitations!

There, Mr. Editor, print this letter, will you, if the hyphen hasn't got into your system and is accomplishing its cultured purposes!

Yours for World Democracy,
New York, Dec. 30.

W. J. LAMPTON,

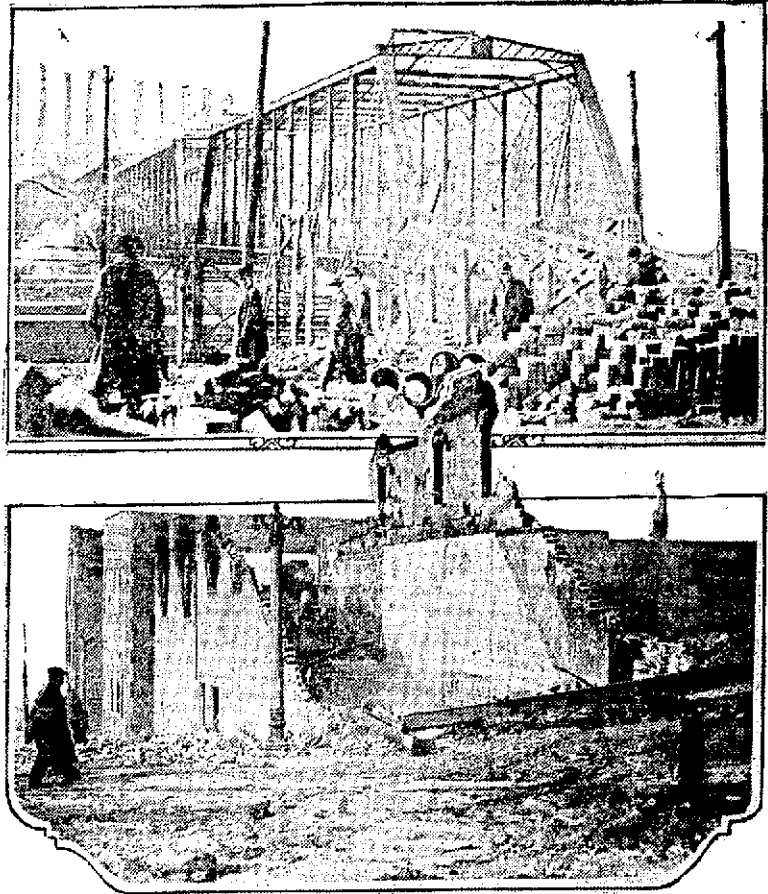

Really, one of the greatest delights in going anywhere is the anticipation of the pleasures to be enjoyed, the planning, the reading of literature bearing upon the proposed trip and the places to be visited. Here we have been planning to take one of the river Mardi Gras excursions this spring and whether we get to go or not, we have been having a lot of fun in "traveling in our mind", and in trying to decide which steamer offers the greater promise, the Joe Fowler or the Homer Smith. And the recent accident to the Kanawha adds a little thrill of possible danger to spice the anticipated pleasure. We hope to go however. Someway we always did find great satisfaction in traveling on a steamboat. If you want a restful vacation, it cannot be beaten.

It begins to look as though the Hon. Harry Daugherty will not have it all his own way in the Republican primary as a candidate for U. S. senator. Report says that former Governor Myron T. Herrick is about to enter the ring while the Hon. Nick Longworth, who married Miss Alice Roosevelt in 1907, is also casting sheep eye glances at the senatorial tags. Should either Myron or Nick get into the fight, what a mighty scramble there will be among the small fry, militant Republican newspapers for revenue, to get out from under those fine endorsements they have given Daugherty. Daugherty must have been anticipating the lure of the Cleveland and Cincinnati barrels when he made such haste to print the pretty things that had been said about him.

It has been observed that whenever Colonel Roosevelt is about to erupt a little more violently than usual, he takes a short trip beforehand. Must be something going to happen pretty soon. The Colonel is packing up for a trip to Bermuda, but it is only going to be a short, how-do-you-do, good bye affair so we will not be long left in suspense. We call it unkind however, for the Ohio State Journal to remark that "the colonel will return knowing more about those islands and their institutions than all of the rest of the people in the world, put together."

Neighbors observe each other more than they observe the golden rule. —Youngstown Telegram.

WHERE BLOODY YOUNGSTOWN RIOT STARTED; SOME OF THE RUINS

Top, north bridge in East Youngstown where strike riot started; bottom, ruins of Gaston's saloon, burned by strikers.

THE PRICE OF QUININ

(Journal of the American Medical Association)

We in this country are inclined to feel that the scarcity of certain drugs is a local hardship. As a matter of fact, the war has produced a stringency in the drug market everywhere. Among the drugs now expensive and difficult to obtain is quinin, the exportation of which from Germany has been forbidden for several months, and on which an embargo was lately imposed by Great Britain. When the British embargo was declared no German, Dutch or Japanese quinin salts had been obtainable on the New York market for some time. American manufacturers were reported to have withdrawn from the market and to be holding their dwindling stocks and inadequate output to fill previous contracts. Such contracts were being filled at 50 cents an ounce for hundred-ounce lots; but consumers obliged to purchase on the open market, at last accounts, were paying middlemen from $1.25 to $1.50 an ounce for quinin sulphate, while a little earlier prices of $2.10 and $2.25 were quoted.

Only once or twice since the Civil War (when $6.50 an ounce was paid in some instances—in depreciated currency to be sure) have these prices been equaled or exceeded. Between 1880 and 1884 there was a period of high prices, due to an attempt to corner the supply of cinchona bark. Ten years ago the price quoted by domestic manufacturers was 24 cents an ounce in hundred-ounce lots. From 1910 to 1912, inclusive, it was 19 cents, but in January, 1913, and January, 1914, it was 25 and 30 cents, respectively.

Cinchona bark is produced in Java, India and Ceylon; a small amount comes from South America, and some is grown in Africa, Jamaica and a few other countries. About 80 percent is produced in Java. The leading countries in the manufacture of quinin are Germany, France, Great Britain, Holland, Italy, the United States, Java and India. The world's market depends for cinchona bark chiefly on Java, and for quinin mainly on Germany. The United States is Germany's largest customer, besides being the heaviest consumer of quinin among all the countries of the world. The effect of any disturbance in the world's supply of quinin would therefore be felt most acutely here. The war has affected the supply by causing an increased demand for quinin for the use of the armies, by interfering with the free movement in commerce of the bark and the manufactured alkaloid and salts, and in other ways, both direct and indirect.

While some of the factors in the situation were operative previously, the recent abrupt rise in the price of quinin is due chiefly to causes connected with the war. The present extremely high prices, therefore, says the Journal of the American Medical Association, may be temporary. Moreover, there is said to be a probability of increased output from the Amsterdam factories.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.
O-O-McINTYRE.

New York, Jan. 10.—Goaded by recent imputations that the great war has produced no great poets, Edward McHugh, conductor on a Fifth avenue bus, has come forward with proof to the contrary. He couldn't find a publisher so he just up and publishes them himself.

"Bus conducting with McHugh is a concession to necessity. In the evening surrounded by a linking group of spindles and hexameters, he comes into his own. A review of the collection reveals certain dominant notes.

His work has a tendency toward the marital, combining forceful expression with a simplicity of style reminiscent of the barber shop poetry school. Compare the gracious sentiment of one of his stanzas with the spirit of Liszt's "Hymn of St. Francis."

Magnanimity show to your foe When he for peace shall sue; The war is the last and cruel one. Believe me, E. McHugh.

We leave it to the many readers of this excellent journal, could anything be fairer than that?

Al Jolson, who wouldn't know a split infinitive if he found one in his soup, was entertaining a group of convivial blades in the Cafe Moderne the other evening.

During the conversation Jolson used two adverbs wrongly, mixed several metaphors and pulled several other little rhetorical bones. Finally a pale, hypersensitive

young man with horn-rimmed glasses and an almost fearful air of intellectuality said: "Mr. Jolson your English distresses me."

"Aw what's grammar between friends," said Jolson.

Charles W. Sutherland, a newspaperman with a past—he was once state senator from Brooklyn, is the bright particular star of the Metropolitan section of the World. His rollicking stories of the quaint and queer of Broadway are penned under the name of Chas. Welton. It may be the senatorial experience that makes him hide his light under a bushel, but at any rate he was dining in a Park Row cafe this week with Jack Callahan, who sketches for the same pages.

At an adjoining table a group of cubby young cub reporters were puffing cigarettes and drinking beer to beat all fury. Naturally the subject turned to the dubs of the journalistic world. "Now you take this fellow Welton," said one, "what right has he got to sign his stuff? But"—with a sigh—"he does it and gets away with it."

"You're right," said another. "There's poor old Charlie Sutherland. My father knows him over in Brooklyn. He's been pegging away on the World year after year. Never gets a story in the paper. Just drifting along like a rudderless ship. Lacks pull I guess. Heigh ho! it's a great game if you can beat it."

And then there is the story Frank O'Brien tells of the well trained war correspondent who trapped in the besieged fort condensed the situation as well as he could.

"Our food and ammunition are gone, there is no avenue of escape, and in two hours we shall be annihilated."

When he looked it over it seemed rather bare, so he added: "There are no other important developments."

New York entertained more than 1,000,000 strangers last week. Never before has there been such an army of spenders. The immediate cause of the sudden prosperity was the automobile show.

The Wise Farmer

There was a man in our town And he was wondrous wise He knew that if he wanted crops He'd have to fertilize.

"It's nitrogen that makes things green" Said this man of active brain: "And potash makes the good strong straw, And phosphate plumps the grain."

But it's clearly wrong to waste plant food On a wet and soggy field; I'll surely have to put in drains If I'd increase the yield.

And after I have drained the land I must plow it deep all over; And even then I'll not succeed Unless it will grow clover.

Now acid soils will not produce A clover sod that's prime; So if I have a sour soil, I'll have to put on lime.

And after doing all these things, To make success more sure, I'll try my very best to keep From wasting the manure.

So I'll drain, and lime, and cultivate, With all that that implies; And when I've done that thoroughly I'll manure and fertilize.

Dean Alfred Vivian, College of Agriculture, Ohio State University.

BRITISH BATTLESHIP IS SUNK

London, Jan. 10---The British battleship King Edward VII has been sunk as the result of striking a mine. The entire crew was saved. The sinking of the King Edward VII was announced by the admiralty in the following: "H. M. S. King Edward VII has struck a mine. Owing to the rough sea she had to be abandoned and sank shortly afterwards. The ship's company was taken off without loss of life. Only two men were injured." The King Edward was a battleship of 16,350 tons, laid down in March, 1902. She was 453 feet long, 78 feet beam and 25 feet draught. She had four 12-inch, four 2-inch and 10 3-inch guns in her main battery and was equipped with four torpedo tubes, submerged. Her speed on her trial trip was 12 knots. She had a complement of 777 men.

Everything From Shoes To Dressed Pigs Were Found

The round up of persons who are alleged to have participated in the looting Friday night continues. Nearly 250 foreigners were arrested while wagon loads of articles of every description found in their homes and varying from shoes to dressed pigs, were brought to the East Youngstown police station. These things, according to the police, were alleged to have been stolen from stores attacked by the mob. Because of the large number of arrests, every bit of available space at the county jail in Youngstown has been filled with prisoners and plans are being made to place others in a large room in the court house under guard.

GRAND JURY IN SESSION

New York, Jan. 10---Six of the eleven former directors of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, charged by the government with criminal violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, were found not guilty, late Sunday afternoon by the jury that for nearly three months has been trying the case. The jury disagreed on the five others. Those acquitted were D. Newton Barney, Farmington, Conn.; Robert W. Taft, Providence, R. I.; James S. Hemingway, A. Heaton Robertson and Frederick F. Brewster, New Haven and Henry K. McHarg, Stamford, Conn. Those on whom the jury disagreed were William Rockefeller, New York; Charles F. Brooker, Ansonia, Conn.; Charles M. LOOKING FOR BIG TREASURE

Vancouver, B. C., Jan. 10---Workmen employed by the bank of Montreal continued today the digging begun yesterday in an effort to unearth $45,000 of the $271,000 stolen from the bank's branch in New Westminster in 1911. Information recently was received by the bank that $20,000 in gold and $25,000 in bills had been cashed near this city. The sources of the information, according to the bank officials is such that they are confident the lost money will be recovered at the place indicated.

The verdict was returned at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon after 51 hours of deliberation, and the jury was discharged. The final vote on the five defendants upon whom the jurors could not agree stood eight to four for acquittal. R. L. Batts, chief counsel for the government, announced that in due time he would move for a new trial of these five. This will be done, he said, before any effort will be made to try the six other former directors of the road who were indicted, but who obtained the right to be tried separately. The jurors did not reach their verdict until after they had reported to Judge Hunt earlier in the day that they could not agree. Up to that time, noon, they had been deliberating with a view to bringing in a verdict on the guilt or innocence of the defendants collectively. The court then instructed them to make further efforts to concur and that if they could not agree upon all, to try and reach a decision on some. The vote of the question of all at that time stood eight to four for acquittal, it was said.

On returning to the jury room the jurors renewed their discussion with the court's instructions in mind and unanimously eliminated the six defendant who were acquitted. Two of the four jurors, who had voted against the defendants originally stood firm.

THE LATEST IN SPORTDOM

The Situation At Lexington

The Lexington Leader says: The first application for a position with the Lexington Colts has been received by Secretary Stephen James. A letter from J. W. Wills of Cambridge stated that the writer was anxious to secure a position on the Lexington club next spring and believed he could make good in a try-out.

Steve Isigurs are busy speculating on whether it will be Ohio State or Bluegrass baseball for Lexington next spring, but the magnates seem to take this stand of mild wonder as to whether there will be any club at all swarming at League park. The question of finances is the main consideration and they say that unless there is an expression from the fans in the shape of donations sufficient to make the venture look like a success, no backing may be had from them. While the situation here seems to be in favor of the reorganization of the old Bluegrass union, Ohio State circuit stands a good show of running another season. The local situation will remain uncertainly defined until the meeting of the directors of the Lexington Exhibition Co., is held. The date for this conference has not yet been set, but it will likely come in a few weeks. Secretary James will make his final report and the magnates will see just where they stand on last year's campaign. The sale of Park and the draft money for Blackwell went a long way toward lifting the organization out of debt.

HAUGHTON'S WONDERFUL RECORD

Percy D. Haughton, who, it is understood, will act as president of the Boston National League club under the new regime, is more noted as a football player and coach than a baseball man, although he played on the varsity nine while an undergraduate at Harvard in the late nineties and captained the Crimson team of 1897.

Of late years Haughton has divided his attention between the coach of Harvard football teams and the Boston Stock Exchange. His success, year in and year out, with the Crimson eleven, has made him one of the most famous of American football coaches. Since he took charge in 1908, the Cambridge eleven under his tuition have played seven-thirty games in eight years, of which 54 have been won, four lost and five tied.

During this period Harvard has scored 1,242 points against its opponents.

STOVALL IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Jan. 10.—George Stovall, former manager of the Kansas City club of the Federal league is in Chicago today after traveling all the way from the Pacific coast in an effort to learn whether a place is open for him under the terms of the peace agreement between the independents and organized baseball.

Stovall said he would confer with Messrs. Tinker and Weeghman.

More Speed Is Cry Of Manager Herzog

Speed is what is needed to make a contender out of the Reds this year, and that is what Manager Herzog wants more than anything else in his search for players to bolster up the team. Last season Herzog himself was the only really clever base-runner on the team, falling only one theft short of Max Carey's record, the highest in the National League. Carey stole 36 bases and Herzog 35, and it was in the effort to tie the high mark of the speedy Pirate that the Red leader was

Cy Williams.

Buck Herzog, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, is said to be angling for Cy Williams, the classy Cub gardener. It is understood that if Tinker disposes of Williams he will send him to Cincy, as that club needs a man like Williams more than any other major league club.

To Retain Stallings

New owners of the Boston Braves issued a statement that Manager Stallings would be retained and that he would continue to be in absolute charge of the team. Rumor has it that Mr. Gaffney, who disposed of the Braves will become financially interested in the New York Giants.

BURK IN MOVIE GAME

Columbus, Jan. 10.—Sanford Burk, pitcher extraordinary with the Indianapolis Indians last season, who jumped into the lime light when he took the Federal hurdle, is now a magnate. Not a baseball magnate but a flicker opera magnate on a rather small but profitable scale in his own neck of the woods on Cleveland avenue in that part of the city once called Milo.

Gladiators To Clash

These two ring gladiators, Porky Flynn and Bearcat Jack Dillon will swap punches in the same ring tonight in Memphis. Dillon is the favorite and should have no trouble in trouncing his heavier opponent.

May Play Ashville

Coach Trout of the local high school basketball team has received a letter from the manager of the Ashville, O., high school team. The manager of the Ashville team says the school had the second best team in the state last season and that the team this year is better. The letter gives Coach Trout the choice of several open dates, and it is likely that two games will be arranged with the Ashville quintet.

TO BE BENGH MANAGER

Manager Huggins of the St. Louis Cardinals is going to direct the playing of his team from the bench this season. He believes his days of real usefulness on the diamond are practically at an end. Thus plans to manage from the bench and surrender his post to a younger, more agile and a strong swatman than he is.

MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry. Avoid Exposure and Eat Less Meat.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

Scientists discover the cause of bleeding gums and loose teeth

The old idea that bleeding gums and loose teeth (symptoms of pyorrhea) are due to little pieces of tartar or bone under the gums, has been exploded. Scientists have made the astounding discovery that this disease is caused by a germ which is found in every human mouth.

This germ is the most active and destructive enemy of your teeth. Are you protecting them against it? You can ward off its constant attack and escape the dread results of the disease by using the proper corrective and preventive treatment in your daily toilet.

To meet the need for this treatment and to enable everyone to take the necessary precautions against this disease, a prominent dentist has put his own prescription before the public in the convenient form of Senreco Tooth Paste. Senreco contains the best corrective and preventive for pyorrhea known to dental science. Used daily it will successfully protect your teeth from this disease. Senreco also contains the best harmless agent for keeping the teeth clean and white. It has a refreshing flavor and leaves a wholesomely clean, cool and pleasant taste in the mouth.

Start the Senreco treatment tonight—full details in the folder wrapped around every tube. Symptoms described. A 25-cent tube is sufficient for six or eight weeks of the pyorrhea treatment. Get Senreco at your druggists today, or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Senreco Remedies Co., 506 Union Central Bldg., Cincinnati, Ohio.

COL. LAMPTON'S VIEWS

A short time ago we remarked that our friend, Colonel William J. Lampton, formerly of this garden valley of the world, but for many years existing in the tainted atmosphere of the effete East, seemed to entertain some feeling about the great war now unhappily going on across the water. Colonel Lampton writes to assure us of the absolute correctness of our surmise. Furthermore he explains just exactly what those feelings are, and requests that if we use the article we be sure to use it exactly as it is written. His views are interesting whether you agree with him or not as to his estimate of the Kaiser. His article follows:

To The Editor of The Times:

It was extremely nice of you to headline me so conspicuously in The Times of Dec. 20, but, say, you slipped a cog when you said that I was sitting in the white light of adoration of Col. Roosevelt. On the contrary, and you would admit it, if you had read some of the slams in verse I have handed out to him during the past few years. But they were for him as a politician, not as a patriot. There I am with him, not adoringly, but something more substantial than that. One day last spring I received an invitation to take tea with the Colonel—I had never met him—he explaining that he wanted to meet as straight-out an American as I was. Of course I went—only two others were present—and when I told him I did not endorse his politics as I did his patriotism, he said he didn't give a damn for a man's politics if he had no hyphen in his patriotism. On this platform we stood together and instead of my making a formal call of a few minutes, we kept it going for nearly two hours and might have been at it yet, only Mrs. Roosevelt came in and carried the Colonel away with her. And the Colonel didn't take anything stronger than tea, and didn't smoke, but he did say damn, which is perfectly justifiable in referring to hyphenated patriotism.

You are right in saying further along in your remarks that I entertain some feeling about the war now unhappily going on across the water, and in order that any Portsmouth friends of mine may know exactly what those feelings are, I will say in just as large type as you will use that I want to see the German people wake up to the fact that they are being bullied by the Kaiser to a finish of every hope of Democracy that they ever had; that they are being played into an autocracy that means an end to popular rights and the development of a despotism as deadly to human liberty as the world has ever known. When they wake up to that, Prussia will become Germanized, not Germany Prussianized. If on the other hand, the Kaiser should conquer the whole world as he dreams he will, my only hope and consolation is that he will land out with an iron hand to hyphenates in this country the kind of militarism they, or their ancestors, ran away from their Fatherland to escape. And the rougher he makes it the greater will be my consolation.

Sentiments of that sort may not secure the German vote for me, but every patriotic, straight-out American is with me and we all shout in the language of Marse Henry Waterson whose state is next door to Portsmouth—"to hell with the Kaiser!" America first, last and all the time, with no divided allegiance is the only genuine brand of true citizenship. All others are imitations!

There, Mr. Editor, print this letter, will you, if the hyphen hasn't got into your system and is accomplishing its cultured purposes!

Yours for World Democracy,
New York, Dec. 30.

W. J. LAMPTON,

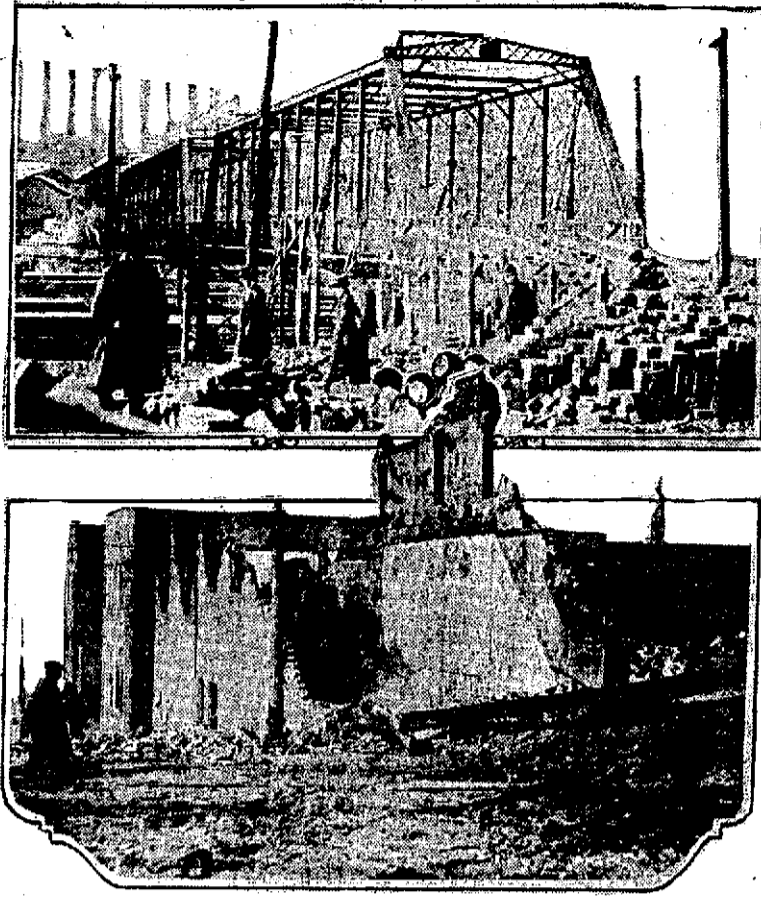

Really, one of the greatest delights in going anywhere is the anticipation of the pleasures to be enjoyed, the planning, the reading of literature bearing upon the proposed trip and the places to be visited. Here we have been planning to take one of the river Mardi Gras excursions this spring and whether we get to go or not, we have been having a lot of fun in "traveling in our mind", and in trying to decide which steamer offers the greater promise, the Joe Fowler or the Homer Smith. And the recent accident to the Kanawha adds a little thrill of possible danger to spice the anticipated pleasure. We hope to go however. Someway we always did find great satisfaction in traveling on a steamboat. If you want a restful vacation, it cannot be beaten.

It begins to look as though the Hon. Harry Daugherty will not have it all his own way in the Republican primary as a candidate for U. S. senator. Report says that former Governor Myron T. Herrick is about to enter the ring while the Hon. Nick Longworth, who married Miss Alice Roosevelt in 1907, is also casting sharp eye glances at the senatorial togs. Should either Myron or Nick get into the fight, what a mighty scramble there will be among the small fry, militant Republican newspapers for revenues to get out from under those fine endorsements they have given Daugherty. Daugherty must have been anticipating the lure of the Cleveland and Cincinnati barrels when he made such haste to print the pretty things that had been said about him.

It has been observed that whenever Colonel Roosevelt is about to erupt a little more violently than usual, he takes a short trip beforehand. Must be something going to happen pretty soon. The Colonel is packing up for a trip to Bermuda, but it is only going to be a short, how-do-you-do, good bye affair so we will not be long left in suspense. We call it unkind, however, for the Ohio State Journal to remark that "the colonel will return knowing more about those islands and their institutions than all of the rest of the people in the world, put together."

WHERE BLOODY YOUNGSTOWN RIOT STARTED; SOME OF THE RUINS

Top, north bridge in East Youngstown where strike riot started; bottom, ruins of Gaston's saloon, burned by strikers.

We in this country are inclined to feel that the scarcity of certain drugs is a local hardship. As a matter of fact, the war has produced a stringency in the drug market everywhere. Among the drugs now expensive and difficult to obtain is quinin, the exportation of which from Germany has been forbidden for several months, and on which an embargo was lately imposed by Great Britain. When the British embargo was declared no German, Dutch or Japanese quinin salts had been obtainable on the New York market for some time. American manufacturers were reported to have withdrawn from the market and to be holding their dwindling stocks and inadequate output to fill previous contracts. Such contracts were being filled at 50 cents an ounce for hundred-ounce tins; but consumers obliged to purchase on the open market, at last accounts, were paying middlemen from $1.25 to $1.50 an ounce for quinin sulphate, while a little earlier prices of $2.10 and $2.25 were quoted.

Only once or twice since the Civil War (when $6.50 an ounce was paid in some instances—in depreciated currency to be sure) have these prices been equaled or exceeded. Between 1880 and 1884 there was a period of high prices, due to an attempt to corner the supply of cinchona bark. T years ago the price quoted by domestic manufacturers was 24 cents an ounce in hundred-ounce tins. From 1910 to 1912, inclusive, it was 19 cents, but in January, 1913, and January, 1914, it was 25 and 30 cents, respectively.

Cinchona bark is produced in Java, India and Ceylon; a small amount comes from South America, and some is grown in Africa, Jamaica and a few other countries. About 80 percent is produced in Java. The leading countries in the manufacture of quinin are Germany, France, Great Britain, Holland, Italy, the United States, Java and India. The world's market depends for cinchona bark chiefly on Java, and for quinin mainly on Germany. The United States is Germany's largest customer, besides being the heaviest consumer of quinin among all the countries of the world. The effect of any disturbance in the world's supply of quinin would therefore be felt most acutely here. The war has affected the supply by causing an increased demand for quinin for the use of the armies, by interfering with the free movement in commerce of the bark and the manufactured alkaloid and salts, and in other ways, both direct and indirect.

While some of the factors in the situation were operative previously, the recent abrupt rise in the price of quinin is due chiefly to causes connected with the war. The present extremely high prices, therefore, says the Journal of the American Medical Association, may be temporary. Moreover, there is said to be a probability of increased output from the Amsterdam factories.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.
O.O. MEINTYRE.

New York, Jan. 10.—Goaded by recent imputations that the great war has produced no great poets, Edward Melling, conductor on a Fifth Avenue 'bus, has come forward with proof to the contrary. He couldn't find a publisher so he just ups and publishes them himself.

"Bus conducting with McHugh is a concession to necessity. In the evening surrounded by a rollicking group of sponges and hexameters, he comes into his own. A review of the collection reveals certain dominant notes. His work has a tendency toward the marital, combining forceful expression with a simplicity of style reminiscent of the barber shop poetry school. Compare the gracious sentiment of one of his stanzas with the spirit of Liszt's 'Hymn of Hate.'"

Magnanimity show to your foe When he for peace shall sue; The war is the last and rueful one. Believe me, E. McHugh.

We leave it to the many readers of this excellent journal, could anything be fairer than that?

Al Jolson, who wouldn't know a split infinitive if he found one in his soup, was entertaining a group of convivial blades in the Cafe Moderne the other evening.

During the conversation Jolson used two adverbs wrongly, mixed several metaphors and pulled several other little rhetorical bones. Finally a pale, hypersensitive

young man with horn-rimmed glasses and an almost fearful air of intellectuality said: "Mr. Jolson your English distresses me."

"Aw what's grammar between friends," said Jolson.

Charles W. Sutherland, a newspaperman with a past—he was once state senator from Brooklyn, is the bright particular star of the Metropolitan section of the World.

His rollicking stories of the quaint and queer of Broadway are penned under the name of Chas. Welton. It may be the senatorial experience that makes him hide his light under a bushel, but at any rate he was dining in a Park Row cafe this week with Jack Callahan, who sketches for the same pages.

At an adjoining table a group of cubby young cub reporters were puffing cigarettes and drinking beer to beat all fury. Naturally the subject turned to the dubs of the journalistic world.

"Now you take this fellow Welton," said one, "what right has he got to sign his stuff? But" with a sigh—"he does it and gets away with it."

"You're right," said another. "There's poor old Charlie Sutherland. My father knows him over in Brooklyn. He's been pegging away on the World year after year. Never gets a story in the paper. Just drifting along like a rudderless ship. Lacks pull I guess. Heigh ho! it's a great game if you can beat it."

And then there is the story Frank O'Brien tells of the well trained war correspondent who trapped in the besieged fort condensed the situation as well as he could.

"Our food and ammunition are gone, there is no avenue of escape, and in two hours we shall be annihilated."

When he looked it over it seemed rather bare, so he added: "There are no other important developments."

New York entertained more than 1,000,000 strangers last week. Never before has there been such an army of spenders. The immediate cause of the sudden prosperity was the automobile show.

The Wise Farmer

There was a man in our town And he was wondrous wise He knew that if he wanted crops He'd have to fertilize.

"It's nitrogen that makes things green"

Said this man of active brain; And potash makes the good strong straw, And phosphate plumps the grain.

But it's clearly wrong to waste plant food On a wet and soggy field; I'll surely have to put in drains If I'd increase the yield.

And after I have drained the land I must plow it deep all over; And even then I'll not succeed Unless it will grow clover.

Now acid soils will not produce A clover sod that's prime; So if I have a sour soil, I'll have to put on lime.

And after doing all these things, To make success more sure, I'll try my very best to keep From wasting the manure.

So I'll drain, and lime, and cultivate, With all that that implies; And when I've done that thoroughly I'll manure and fertilize.
